Notes

45 km-long route, which - except for an initial 2-km-long, uphill portion - is virtually flat, with some challenging segments of a few hundred meters each. Extendable up to about 55 km for those who want to arrive at Camigliatello from Cupone by bicycle.

a) Visit to the Sila Giants, a residue of the Silva Brutia forest celebrated by Latin writers, the primigenial forest, the Urwald described by Norman Douglas in his “Old Calabria”.

b) Visit to the Cupone visitors’ centre. Originally a sawmill, then manufacturing centre for rosin (the yellowish to amber, translucent, hard, brittle, fragmented resin left after distilling the oil of turpentine from the crude oleoresin of the pine: used chiefly in making varnishes, varnish and paint driers, printing inks, and for rubbing on the bows of such string instruments as the violin, Translator’s note) and turpentine, then sawmill again, today the location of Cupone is a power pole for policies of responsible tourism and environmental conservation. Nature paths, wildlife observatories, a geological garden and a botanical garden, accessible to disabled and blind people, showcase the extraordinary natural heritage preserved in the Parco Nazionale della Sila (Sila National Park).

c) Visit to the Old Calabria Literary Park, which is located at Torre Camigliati, near Camigliatello Silano, seat of the same-named Casino (pictured), with the adjacent structure “La nave della Sila” (the Sila ship). The Museo Narrante dell’Emigrazione (Narration Museum of Emigration), by Gian Antonio Stella, inaugurated in 2005, is hosted in the ancient and delightful dairy farm - restored by architect Sila Barracco.

16.30 Returning to the Agriturismo (by car and microbus)

19 Dinner

20 Leaving for Cosenza for night-time visit of the historical centre (optional)

Notes

45-km-long wavy route, with uphill portions of about 2-3 km which require an intermediate fitness level.

The convent of Saint Francis of Paola (1617) has under its structure a 30-metre-long tunnel, called "Lamia". Inside it, two old troughs are still found, supplied with fresh and clear water by a natural source. In ancient times donkeys returning from work on the nearby mountains would find rest here. Recently refurbished, it now serves as a cultural centre and hosts concerts, theatre plays, conferences, meetings and private functions.

- a) Pratopiano is a wonderful natural area of about 20 hectares which boasts at least 200 monumental chestnut trees and the remains of a dozen of caselle (industrial archaeology: construction where processing of fresh chestnuts into dried chestnuts takes place).
- b) Rogliano, with its historical centre, may represent an ideal Calabrian village with its alleys, its churches and small squares.

Third Day

Sunday 3 June

3rd leg

From the mountains to the seaside

(hamlets and Medieval castles)

Route duration: 6 hours

7 breakfast

8 driving to Grimaldi

9 Grimaldi - leaving by bicycle

10.30 Aiello Calabro - visit to the hamlet (1 hour)

12.30 Cleto - visit to the hamlet (1 hour) with break

14.30 Campora San Giovanni

15 Amantea - visit to the historical centre

18 Returning to the Agriturismo

20 Dinner with final bye-byes

Notes

45-km-long route, which provides - after 20 minutes of peaks and troughs - a 5-km-long climb, at the end of which the Tyrrhenian Sea can be admired. From that moment onwards the long, breathtaking descent towards the Medieval hamlets begins.

Aiello Calabro, seat of the Renaissance-style Cybo-Malaspina building dating back to the 16th century, castle and Medieval hamlet Cleto, visit to the castle and to the awesome Medieval hamlet.

Amantea, visit to the historical centre, a highly picturesque place which claims an ancient past between Arabs and Normans.

General Warnings

Please beware that, for each of the routes, possible “escape routes” for the not-so-fit or “extendable routes” for the fitter ones are taken into account.

A certain degree of fitness is assumed, despite the art-and-culture and rest stops, since Calabria is not a land of plains, and the few existing ones do not allow relaxed cycling nor aesthetic fascination.

Where necessary, however, a SAG/broom wagon and assistance are available.

There are about 30 bicycles (20 front-dampened ones and 5 fully-dampened ones), with further 5 electrically-assisted pedal ones, all mountain bikes hence, from 26”, to 27,5”, to 29” wheels, with sizes S-M-L. Provided with repair kits and with the option of a safety helmet.

It is necessary to book in advance both accommodation and bicycle rental.

Returning from Calabria may take place either in the evening of Sunday 3 June, or in the following morning of Monday 4 June 2018.

Please keep in mind that Amantea, location of the last leg, is close both to the railway station of Paola (20 km) and to the Lamezia airport (30 km).
