U.N. PRESENTATIONS

Danielle Serres
Peace Secretary

Speech given by Danielle Serres – Peace Secretary- at the International Conference in New Zealand

At this 2015 Servas International Conference in New Zealand, we have the opportunity to present some of the achievements by Servas volunteers involved with the United Nations.

We believe SI involvement at the UN is crucial, as the UN, though perfectible, is the most important organization the world has to provide peace and security and to prevent war and global environmental degradation.

I defend those who speak up against all forms of discrimination

Our United Nations Representatives: What do they do? Who are they?

Some of these volunteers are here today, and they will have a chance to explain their work to you.

Magnus Adams

Fanny Bello and Jeanne Devine

Others are not here but have contributed in many ways to this presentation, and/or to Servas presence at the UN, and to promote peace among our membership and beyond.

Our United Nations Representatives: conference attended in New York City, 2014

In August 2014 at New York City United Nations Headquarters, the 65th Department for Public Information/NGOs Annual Conference, titled "2015 and Beyond: Our Action Agenda", was attended by our newly accredited representative, Fanny Bello. She was one of over 1,500 NGO representatives from around the globe!

Servas side event at the Human Rights Council in Geneva, September 25th 2014

A side-event under the title "International Peace Builders" was organized during the 27th session at the Human Rights Council (HRC) in Geneva by me – Danielle Serres - as Servas International Peace Secretary), and by Magnus Adams as Assistant.

The event was joined by the President of Servas International, Jonny Sågänger, as well as by the Vice-President, Ann Greenhough.

Servas side event at the Human Rights Council in Geneva, September 25th 2014

The event was joined by nearly 70 guests from all over the world – Servas members and Partner NGOs.

Servas members from different countries: Spain, France, Korea, Sweden, United Kingdom, Switzerland here. Members from Germany, Austria, Italy, US and other countries also joined 6/15

Our United Nations Representatives: What do they do? Who are they?

Daniela Doenges from Servas France is one of our representatives at the HRC in Geneva. She is passionate about minority rights and the Right to Development. She was Lore Purroy's mentor during her internship at UNOG.

Lore Purroy, from Servas Spain, undertook an internship with SI at the UN in Geneva from 15 June to 3 July 2015. Lore was able to attend the entire 29th regular session of the Human Rights Council.

Our United Nations Representatives in Geneva

Lorette Dubout, from Servas France, as well as Catherine Burer and Vreny Boesch, from Servas Switzerland, are also SI representatives at UNOG

From left to right: Vreny (CH), Danielle (F), Lorette (F) and Daniela (F)

Angelika Hofmann,
from Servas Austria,
is the Servas International Representative in Vienna, particularly involved in Women
rights.

Our United Nations Representatives: What do they do?

Our UN representatives can join oral or written statements of NGOs and/or prepare (together with SI President and SI Peace Secretary) written and/or oral statements.

Several have been presented at the UN and submitted on behalf of Servas, notably during General Debate under item 9 –

Racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related forms of intolerance.

S.I. President Jonny Sägänger is giving an oral statement at the HRC

Our United Nations Representatives: What else do they do?

SI United Nations representatives establish contacts with other NGOs within the UN context.

Daniela and Lore in Geneva, with members of other NGOs

And under certain conditions, they may also facilitate your visit to the UN venues, provided that you contact
them well in advance.

Initiative for Peace: Costa Rica and UPeace

Thanks to Carmen Mora and Fanny Bello, contacts have been made in Costa Rica between Servas and the University for Peace (UPeace), the UN mandated university created in December 1980, with headquarters in San José, Costa Rica.

Initiatives: the Peace Calendar

Alvany Santiago from Brazil has taken the lead of the Peace Calendar project with help of young Servas Brazil members. The calendar aims to recognize Peace activities developed by Servas members around the world and call the attention to UN dates in order to motivate members to organize Peace activities in 2016.

We can all contribute to the achievement of a more just and peaceful society

I hope you will feel inspired by our team presentation, and maybe join in the future as a SI UN representative, or support in your way SI UN involvement, and UN work, particularly the Sustainable Development Goals as we will present.

Here is one of the 15 posters prepared by Servas France. This one is about the complementary approaches to Peace

We can all contribute to the achievement of a more just and peaceful society

As members of an NGO with UN representation, we can contribute to the achievement of a more just and peaceful society.

U.N. PRESENTATIONS

Fanny Bello (Servas USA)

Servas Representative at United Nations in New York

Speech given by Fanny Bello at the International Conference in New Zealand

Allow me introduce myself.

I am a Venezuelan Economist who has the double honor of being US Servas and Servas International United Nations Representative.

I am delighted to be among you; and would like to say that the opinions I share with you today are based on my personal experience.

Speech given by Fanny Bello at the International Conference in New Zealand

During the Venezuelan Democratic period, two of several positions I held in the Government were as General Secretary of the Foundation for the Community Development, and Minister of Agriculture.

At that time I became aware of the strenuous social situation poor people live in, both in the cities marginal areas and peasants in the countryside; as well as the lack of information for protection of the environment.

August 2015, Fanny Bello
and Jeanne Devine
at UN in New York City

This has motivated me to follow Danielle Serres' proposal to include Servas in participation within social agenda. .

It was also very important for my decision the fact that US Servas will be involved in such important task. As such, our actions would bring us closer to United Nations objectives.

Taking into account what has been expressed by United Nations Representatives in all the meetings I have attended, it is with deep concern that I approach this important way as Servas member by being involved in the objectives of the UN; and thus, making a contribution to its objectives, which are:

- Environment Protection,
- Human Rights and
- Peace.

Some of you probably think that the relationship between Servas and the UN is far from the Servas objectives, but I want to say to you that working in this direction, we will have at hand a wonderful opportunity to help and contribute to the good of the world.

Sharing Servas members experiences

By interchanging ideas with our visitors and hosts about the problems in our countries, we may report our experiences from productive discussions to the SI Peace Secretary through the National Secretaries in each Servas country.

So, Servas members too can give a contribution to the United Nations objectives and solutions.

The task of UN representatives, in my opinion

In my opinion, it should be compulsory for any SI UN representative to inform the SI Peace Secretary about what is discussed in the United Nations meetings.

The information would be shared with the National Peace Secretaries in each member country, and their opinions collected, as a contribution to approach human being improvement.

As a conclusion of this Conference, I think that living in this complex time, in a world overwhelmed with human problems to resolve, Servas is not limited to an organization offering hospitality for two nights.

It is a privilege to be present at United Nations and we should further make use of this possibility.

Thanks to Servas friends, it is possible to enjoy the beauty of every place visited, and everybody should also remember the importance of the interconnection between Servas and the United Nations, so to bring our voice of Peace.

THANK YOU!

Servas Peace 2016 calendar

Objectives:

- ✓ To highlight Servas peace activities
- ✓ To call attention to some international dates observed by the United Nations, in order to motivate Servas members to engage in related activities, and to fulfill Servas mission.

Challenges to improve the calendar:

- ❖ more peace activities to be developed
- ❖ more good resolution photos to be received, mentioning the author
- ❖ more and more Peace quotes to be added

Servas Peace 2016 calendar

Thanks to Alania Carolina and Rafael for their commitment to the project!

Peace and understanding through travel and hosting

Servas is an international network which builds world peace, goodwill and understanding by providing opportunities for personal contacts among people of different cultures, backgrounds and nationalities.

The United Nations and Servas

- 193 Nations represented in the General Assembly (started with 51 members)
- Was founded in 1945
- Promotes international co-operation

- ✓ Servas was founded in 1949
- ✓ The UN recognized Servas as an NGO in 1973
- ✓ Servas operates in 119 countries with hosts for travelers

My own experience

I want to tell you how SERVAS has impacted my life!

In the 1970s, travel has defined my thinking and career.

SERVAS gave me opportunities to travel to many parts of the world – and each travel taught me a lesson!

My own experience

Servas points the way to new adventures and ends with an avid desire to protect our planet.

Through Servas I have gained awareness of social needs, commitment to protect our beautiful world, and a hope for the future that we all can join in a celebration of life.

Servas at the United Nations

Servas is one of 3900 NGOs affiliated with the United Nations.

We actively promote UN goals that address

- ✓ peace
- ✓ human rights
- ✓ environment
- ✓ poverty
- ✓ gender equality.

To make the new goals a reality, will take the support and advocacy of all people in the world.

Servas has about 15,000 members in more than 100 countries!
